

January 28, 2006

NOTE: Date change

Schedule:

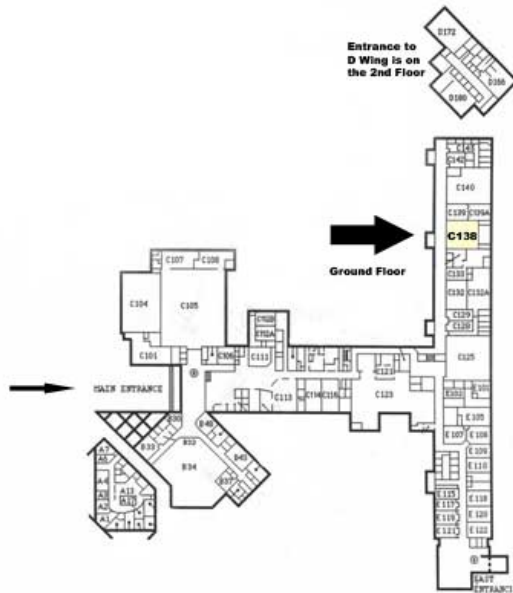

8:30 – 9 a.m. Registration

9:00 – 10:30 Taking Care of Self

10:30 – 12 Massages in D265

Location:

John A. Logan College
Room C138

Little Egypt – Illinois RID
C/O John A. Logan College
Interpreter Preparation Program
Carterville, Illinois 62918

Interpreting . .
. What a pain
in the neck . . .
wrists . . .
hands
and joints!

Sponsors: LEIRID, IRID and John A. Logan College

Registration

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____

E-Mail _____

Payment preferred by January 21st,
will take registrations at the door.

____ Student Registration $7

____ Regular Registration $15

Send this form with a check or money order to:

Shelly Stearns, Treasurer LEIRID
306 E. Washington
DeSoto, IL 62924

Cancellations will be accepted
within 48 hours of the event.

👍 What are the causes
of interpreter injuries?

👍 How do I avoid getting hurt?

👍 Stretching for fun
and profit

👍 Proper warm up and cool down

👍 Self treatment

👍 Q & A

👍 Massages

Todd Vaughn:

Professor Vaughn has his Bachelor of Science in Physiology from Southern Illinois University, His Physical Therapy degree from New York University, a Master of Arts in Rehabilitation Administration from Southern Illinois University. He is currently a doctoral candidate at Southern Illinois University. He directs the Physical Therapy Department at Southern Illinois University and is a Certified Manual Therapist and a Board Certified Orthopedic Specialist.

SIU Physical Therapy Club:

The Southern Illinois University Physical Therapy Club will be offering massages to workshop participants. Massages will be given in D265 after Professor Vaughn's workshop.