I wanted to update you on the work of the Mission and Vision Committee. Last spring, Herb Russell, Adrienne Barkley, Mik Sawicki and I met to draft a vision statement which reflected the discussions we had in our meetings. We came up with the following statement:

“We are (or John A. Logan College is) a community of teachers and learners dedicated to the improvement of individual and community life through high-quality, accessible educational programs and services.”

From this statement, we thought we could pull out the following key phrases for expansion into specific mission/goal statements:

community of teachers and learners improvement of individual and community life
high-quality accessible
educational programs and services

Please take a few minutes to write down your feedback to the statement and your thoughts on what specific elements should be covered under each key phrase.

The committee will meet again as soon as I get further direction from other committees involved in this process.

Please return your comments to me on paper or by e-mail by October 3.
