Dear Students:

I am pleased that you are reviewing the information in this catalog because that means you are a student here, or you are considering becoming a student here. I hope you will find the information useful, and I urge you to contact one of the offices on campus if you need additional information or assistance.

You will find a very diverse student body at John A. Logan College. We have traditional college-age students, adult re-entry students, transfer students from other colleges and universities, a large continuing education program, a strong business and industry training program, and a solid adult education and literacy project. In addition, we have been entrusted with the training needs of several state and federal organizations, including the Illinois State Police, Illinois Department of Corrections, Illinois Department of Transportation, and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

One of the strengths of this College is the very attractive and functional facilities on our campus where there are 169 acres, with over 13 acres under roof for education and training programs. You will find our campus has current technology in the buildings and classrooms, and there is a pleasant atmosphere in a very clean and safe environment. We work hard to provide facilities that enhance your education.

The College provides numerous courses and programs to serve the needs of the people in southern Illinois. We serve a district of 143,000 individuals, and it is necessary to provide highly technical training, complex academic courses and programs, and diverse special activities for the people of the district. I hope we are offering you the student-centered courses and programs you need to prepare for your future.

Quality and affordability are strengths of the College. The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, the Illinois Community College Board, the U. S. Department of Education, and other governmental and professional accrediting agencies have found John A. Logan College to be an exemplary institution of higher education. Moreover, this College is able to deliver high-quality programs at one of the lowest costs you will find anywhere. I think that our team management approach and a comprehensive planning process have helped us achieve this quality at a low cost to the students.

I hope you have an enjoyable and productive experience on our campus.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Mees, Ph.D.
President
