

JALC

Why Would You Go Anywhere Else!

John A. Logan College (JALC) is an active and proud member of the CAE community. Our first mission is our students and the community development supported by the school's staff, faculty, administration, prominent members of our community, and of course our students. We attend CAE events, virtual job fairs, training, and conferences. Our school favors conference experience for our students and have attended 3Cs and WiCyS every year. John A. Logan College has a CCDC team and computer club that has competed in CCDC, Wicked6, NCL's, and at Argonne National Laboratories maintaining an average membership of around 20 to 25 students. We have become a WiCyS Women's Chapter. Those students elect to put in extra work, internships, tutorials, labs, training, and volunteering to community projects every year. If we had to pick one thing about our school that makes us extremely proud it is our students' involvement in building a more aware and stronger community. JALC works with K-12 STEM/STEAM programs, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, boot camps, athletes, and parents by utilizing demonstrations and projects. CAE has helped our rural school in Southern Illinois to get on the map. We have gathered resources, made allies, and improved our program through this effort and we proudly share our findings with other schools about our program. JALC is proud to be a member and we hope to continue these progressive steps in building a more secure future with our community and family.
